Norris & Rowe's circus which showed here last month, met with disaster at Saskatoon on Monday. Twenty-three cars were ditched and a considerable number of the animals escaped, most of them, however being recaptured by attendants.

Mr. M. McCauley, M.P.P. fcr Mr. M. McGauley, M.P.P. for Vermillion, has resigned his seat in the local Legislatoro to accept the position of warden of the pre-vincial penticatory in Edmonton. A writ has been isned for an elec-tion to take place in the Vermillo district on Thursday, July 26th. Nominations will take place on Mcnday, July 16th.

July Canadian Magazine

The range of articles in the July Canadian Magazine carries the reader around the world. R. Reginald Ford, a member of the Antarctic Expedition led by Scott, writes interestingly of the unknown lands under the title "The Fascination of the Uttermost South." Bestrice Grimshaw describes the famous geyeers of New Zeeland, her article being illustrated with many interesting photographs. A humorous poetical composition easilied "A Canadian Olympionikos" celebrates Sherring's victory at Athens. Julia W. Henshaw has an illustrated article in "AJ Fisherwoman in the ginald Ford, a member of the Anin "Al Fisherwoman in the Rockies."

Easy Method of destroying Cayotes and Badgers

Joseph Adams, of Montans, is responsible for the following method of killing badgers, cayotes and other vermin: Take a piece of brimstone the size of a walnut, replit a dry stick and press the brimstone into the stick, place the stick and brimstone in terperatine, light the stick with a match and drep it into the den while blazing, rater about three minutes of the work of the proposed on the beat with a dark of the proposed of the stick and brimstone in terperatine, light the stick with a match and drep it into the den while blazing, rater about three minutes of the work of the proposed of the propo was because I choked the fire by pressing the sod into the whole too closely. No snimal can live in a den where brimstone is burn-

The biggest celebration of the season will be held on Tuesday. July 17th. $500 will be given in prizes. The program will consist prissa. The program will consist of horse racing, bucking contest, walking contest, climbing greasy pole, swimming race, dancing day and night, etc., etc. The people will remember the good celebration of past years, but this year prom-ises to eclipse them all. Every-body come.
